INTUITIVE AGILITY FOR LEADERS

A workshop for Leaders and Executives to learn intuitive creativity

ABOUT YOUR FACILITATOR:

Arupa Tesolin is a consultant and trainer in innovation and transformation who helps leaders, teams & organizations develop intuitive agility and inner creative skills .

She is the founder of Intuita, author of Ting!, inventor of Intuita MindWare and producer of Intuita's transformational innovation workshops - encompassing insight, intuition & deep cognition, mind mastery & creating.

Arupa's enlightened view and thoughtful originality in implicit innovation helps others connect the invisible conceptual dots to draw on deeper sources of energy, know-how, purpose & innovation capital.

Arupa has two decades of leadership, management & enterprise capability development experience. She has published over 150 articles in top training & management publications internationally, two peer reviewed science papers & a government paper on Psycho-social impact of Occupational Stress.

Discover how to make intuition skills work for you
Learn to use them as a Leadership asset

What You'll Gain:

Through a Self-Assessment process, individual & group practice exercises and discussions, participants will learn how to listen to and develop intuition skills to improve leadership, clarify vision, nourish relationships, anticipate outcomes, improve team communications, assess risk, and generate creative solutions in today's dynamic environment.

Description:

Strong intuition skills are essential to effective leadership. Successful leaders require mastery with both inner and external resources. Highly intuitive executives are able to lead change and flex new directions based on calm certainty. They amplify and emulate vision while maintaining awareness. They pay attention to inner cues to correctly appraise scenarios, anticipate change, identify opportunities, assess risk, problem solve and plan contingencies, size up people and situations, and communicate effectively to avoid wasted time, expenditures and resources to maintain progress and momentum. This course helps leaders and aspiring executives to learn to pay attention to their intuitive signals and apply them with confidence as a problem-solving tool in the situations they face. Intuitive agility is a personal asset, a valuable advantage and an important creativity and innovation skill.

What You'll Learn

Why intuition is a current leadership skill
Discover your personal intuition style
Connect intuitive signals with your leadership vision to foster better people outcomes
Practice and gain confidence in listening to your intuition
How to overcome factors that interfere with intuition integrity
Effective ways to apply and decode intuitive information on your feet or in your seat
Practical ways to develop intuition over time
Use Fast Intuition Tools to elicit intuition in the moment

Outcomes:

Confidently access and apply intuitive information to results and progress milestones
Experience less stress and more creative fluidity as your intuitive agility increases

Book this workshop at Intuita - Insights that transform intuita.com